Fund manager hires senior credit analyst

Chenavari Credit Partners, the firm set up by former Calyon credit markets head Loïc Fery, has hired Atif Malik as a senior corporate credit analyst. It is thought he will focus on high yield credits.

Malik joins from BlackRock's London-based leveraged finance team, where he was a senior high yield and leveraged loan analyst. He brings ten years experience in corporate fundamental analysis and five years specific to credit and relative value. He was responsible for setting up BlackRock's leveraged finance operation in 2007 and identified trade ideas within a broad array of relative value, arbitrage, event driven and directional trades using bonds, loans, CDS, LCDS and indices
